THE JOHN G. WHITE COLLECTION

Modern Philology is glad to print the following notice, submitted by the Librarian of the Cleveland Public Library:

The John G. White Collection of Folklore, Oriental and Mediaeval Literature, and Archaeology now owned by the Cleveland Public Library comprises 30,000 volumes and pamphlets, with additions at the rate of 2,000 or 3,000 pieces annually, and is available for loan to those interested, whether residents of Cleveland or not. The material is now in order, and a librarian in charge.

Mediaeval literature is extensively represented. Besides the collections of standard publishing societies, most of the individual authors of the period are to be found in nearly all editions. The critical material on hand is chiefly on the literary side, purely linguistic treatises and philological journals not falling, as a rule, within the scope of the collection. But for Old French, Old and Middle High German, Anglo-Saxon, Middle English, Middle Dutch, etc., and mediaeval romances and legends the material is very full.

Much in other portions of the collection will also be of interest. There are several thousand ballads. Folklore and Oriental literatures are as strongly represented as almost anywhere in the country, and here periodicals and linguistic material form an important part. Matter on proverbs and gypsies is a notable feature. For catalogues of manuscripts in European and Oriental libraries, the White Collection ranks among the first three or four of the United States. Egyptology, Assyriology, archaeology, and Oriental history, witchcraft, voyages and travels, and ethnology are all represented in force, particularly Egyptology. Lastly, over 140 different languages are represented, besides many dialects, notable among which is the collection of Italian dialect dictionaries.

While no printed lists are in existence, any desired book can be found readily, and loans will gladly be made. Applications should be made if possible through the library of the institution with which the applicant is connected; those not in a position to comply with this requirement should state their case. The period for which books are loaned is ordinarily two weeks, with the privilege of renewal for two weeks more; but other arrangements may be made if need warrants. All communications should be sent to the Librarian, Public Library, Cleveland, Ohio.
